

This man has an
account with us,
opened in 1832,
to fund the apprehension of horse thieves.

That account is still open today.
(And he's still ready to ride.)

The Society in Dedham for the Apprehension of Horse Thieves was established in 1832 to stop a crime epidemic. And it was very successful. Over the years its descendants have continued to meet, "just in case." Historically, the Society has been suspicious and wary, except when it came to the community bank they chose way back then, and still choose today.

As a "Mutual Savings Bank," we are owned and operated by, and for, our depositors and customers. We cannot be bought or acquired. We serve you where you live and work, with local experience and state-of-the-art expertise.

When you deal with a banker about your mortgage or your business, or even just about your checking account, it's important to have that individual be the same person you saw when you opened or applied for your account. With us, it's always someone you know and who knows you ... unless you're thinking about stealing a horse.

Call us today, or just stop by.
